Negative results must always be combined with patient history and clinical observation and monitoring. Optimum specimen types and timing of specimen collection are crucial for accurate result. Collection of multiple specimens at various intervals maybe necessary to detect the virus.

Abbott ID-NOW COVID-19 is the leading molecular PCR Test trusted by hospitals, physician offices and urgent care clinics. The test targets COVID-19 RdRp gene that utilizes isothermal NAAT technology. ID-NOW test is FDA approved under EUA (Emergency Use Authorization). The recent Abbott data show highly accurate results over 99% sensitivity, and the specificity is close to 100%.

CLINICAL SIGNIFICANCE

DETECTED POSITIVE	You have the corona virus in your system whether you have symptoms or not. You are contagious and should self-quarantine right away. Positive results require telemedicine consultation.
